A Fast Start in London

With only three seconds left at Wembley Stadium, Houston faced a 49-yard field goal with the score tied. The kick flew through the posts, giving the Texans a 34-31 win over Jacksonville. It was the last turn in a game where neither side stopped fighting.

Houston had arrived with a 1-4 record and needed a lift. C.J. Stroud gave it one early, throwing 42 yards to Nico Collins. That big play set up Foster Moreau's 6-yard touchdown catch. Jacksonville moved to Houston's goal line on its next drive, but safety Bullock intercepted Trevor Lawrence there. The catch stole away a scoring chance and kept Houston ahead.

Answers Before Halftime

Jacksonville did not stay quiet for long. Parker Washington made a 27-yard catch, and Lawrence found Bhayshul Tuten for a 27-yard touchdown to tie the game. Houston added a field goal, but Lawrence guided Jacksonville back down the field. Tuten's 2-yard touchdown catch put Jacksonville ahead 14-10 with 55 seconds left before halftime.

That lead disappeared in a flash. Stroud hit Jaylin Noel for 50 yards, moving Houston close to the end zone. With eight seconds left in the half, Stroud connected with Moreau for a 1-yard touchdown. Houston led 17-14, and its quick response changed the game's direction.

One Last Kick

After halftime, Houston kept pushing. Stroud led a long drive that ended with Noel's 13-yard touchdown catch, making it 24-14. Jacksonville pulled closer when Lawrence threw a 1-yard touchdown pass to Nate Boerkircher. Yet Jawhar Jordan broke free for a 25-yard touchdown late in the third quarter, and Houston's lead grew to 31-21.

Lawrence would not let the game end there. He threw for 306 yards and four touchdowns, including a 7-yard catch by Travis Hunter that made it 31-28. Hunter then intercepted Stroud in the end zone, stopping Houston from adding more points. Lawrence moved Jacksonville into range, and Cam Little kicked a 60-yard field goal to tie the score with 1:55 left.

Stroud calmly led Houston across midfield once more. A 21-yard Collins catch and runs by Woody Marks and Jordan set up the final kick. Houston rose to 2-4, while Jacksonville fell to 4-2 after a comeback that nearly reached the finish line.

READING

Correct answers are filled in.

- 1 D It ended Jacksonville's chance to score near Houston's goal line.

Jacksonville reached Houston's goal line, but Bullock intercepted Lawrence there. The article says this took away a scoring chance and kept Houston ahead.

- 2 A Houston quickly scored after Jacksonville took the lead.

After Jacksonville went ahead 14-10, Stroud completed a 50-yard pass and then a touchdown pass with eight seconds left. These quick events made Jacksonville's lead vanish rapidly.

- 3 A Stroud threw a 1-yard touchdown pass to Moreau.

With eight seconds left before halftime, Stroud connected with Moreau for a 1-yard touchdown. That score gave Houston its 17-14 halftime lead.

- 4 B Little tied the score, Stroud led Houston across midfield, and Collins and the runners gained key yards.

After Little tied the score, Stroud moved Houston across midfield. A 21-yard catch by Collins and runs by Marks and Jordan set up the final kick.

- 5 C Jacksonville's late rally tied the game, but Houston answered with a final scoring play to win.

The article describes several changes in the score, including Jacksonville's late tie on a field goal. Houston then drove into position for the deciding kick, showing its final response earned the win.

- 6 What a good answer includes:

A strong response explains the early Houston score and interception, Jacksonville's response before halftime, and the later back-and-forth scoring. It should also describe Jacksonville tying the game late and Houston's final drive that set up the winning kick, using accurate details from the article.
