A Fast Start, Then a Stop

Three seconds remained at Wembley Stadium when Houston's kicker stepped up from 49 yards with the score tied. His field goal passed through the uprights, the tall posts behind the end zone, and Houston had a 34-31 win over Jacksonville. The final kick completed a game in which each surge seemed to demand an even faster answer.

Houston had arrived at 1-4, searching for proof that its slow start could change. Jacksonville entered at 4-1 after a strong run, but Houston struck first. C.J. Stroud threw 42 yards to Nico Collins, then found Foster Moreau for a 6-yard touchdown. Jacksonville moved close to the goal line on its next drive, yet safety Bullock intercepted Trevor Lawrence. By catching Lawrence's pass at the goal line, Bullock stopped a likely score and preserved Houston's 7-0 lead.

Answers Before Halftime

Jacksonville quickly recovered from that costly stop. Parker Washington caught a 27-yard pass, and Lawrence found Bhayshul Tuten for a 27-yard touchdown that tied the game. Houston took a small lead on a field goal, but Lawrence drove Jacksonville back down the field. Tuten's 2-yard touchdown catch with 55 seconds left in the half gave the Jaguars a 14-10 edge.

That advantage disappeared with stunning speed. Stroud connected with Jaylin Noel on a 50-yard play, pushing Houston deep into Jacksonville territory. With eight seconds left before halftime, Moreau caught a 1-yard touchdown pass. Houston led 17-14, and the rapid response changed the game's direction. After halftime, Stroud guided a long drive that ended with Noel's 13-yard touchdown catch. The Texans had built a 24-14 lead by using a strategic mix of long passes and steady drives.

The Last Drive Wins

Jacksonville would not let Houston pull away. Lawrence threw a 1-yard touchdown pass to Nate Boerkircher, cutting the lead to three points. Houston answered again when Jawhar Jordan ran 25 yards for a touchdown late in the third quarter. The score became 31-21, but Lawrence kept the pressure on, finishing with 306 passing yards and four touchdown passes.

Travis Hunter caught a 7-yard touchdown to pull Jacksonville within three early in the fourth quarter. He then intercepted Stroud in the end zone, stopping Houston from adding points and giving Jacksonville a new opening. Lawrence used it well enough to set up Cam Little's 60-yard field goal, which tied the score at 31 with 1:55 left.

Stroud stayed calm in the final minutes. A 21-yard catch by Collins, plus runs by Woody Marks and Jordan, moved Houston across midfield. That sequence set up the winning kick and lifted Houston to 2-4 before its trip to face the New York Giants. Jacksonville fell to 4-2, yet its resilient rally showed it could keep fighting after a difficult turn.

READING

Correct answers are filled in.

- 1 C Bullock intercepted Lawrence's pass at the goal line.

Bullock's interception stopped Jacksonville near the goal line, preventing a likely score and keeping Houston ahead 7-0.

- 2 D Moreau caught a 1-yard touchdown pass.

After Jacksonville took a 14-10 lead, Stroud's long pass to Noel set up Moreau's 1-yard touchdown catch with eight seconds left in the half.

- 3 B Build a much larger lead

Houston had taken a 24-14 lead, and Jacksonville responded with a touchdown to keep Houston from increasing its advantage further.

- 4 C Both teams answered key scores, but Houston's final drive earned a narrow win.

The article traces repeated scoring responses by both teams, including Jacksonville's fourth-quarter rally and Houston's final drive that set up the winning kick.

- 5 B Jacksonville gained an opening to tie the score.

The interception stopped Houston from adding points and gave Jacksonville the opportunity that led to Little's field goal, tying the score at 31.

- 6 What a good answer includes:

A strong response explains the sequence of key changes in the game: Houston's early goal-line interception, Jacksonville's response before halftime, Houston's quick touchdown before the break and later lead, Jacksonville's fourth-quarter rally and tying field goal, and Houston's final drive that set up the winning kick. The response should show how these events connect rather than simply list them.
