The Catch That Waited

With 4:17 left in overtime, Juwan Johnson finally had his big moment. The Saints tight end caught Tyler Shough's 15-yard touchdown pass, putting New Orleans ahead of Cleveland 23-22 in the Superdome. The Saints had started the day 2-5 and needed a spark, while the 5-3 Browns hoped to move past a hard loss to Pittsburgh.

Before Johnson's winning catch, New Orleans took an early 3-0 lead. Audric Estime powered a long drive with tough runs, and Shough's 19-yard pass to Johnson set up a short field goal. The Saints then reached the Cleveland 2-yard line, but rookie receiver Jordyn Tyson lost the ball after making a catch. A Browns defender recovered it at the 1, ending a strong chance to add more points.

The Defense Holds Firm

Cleveland found its rhythm in the second quarter. Shedeur Sanders connected with Dylan Sampson for 16 yards and Harold Fannin Jr. on an important play that kept the drive alive. The Browns tied the game with a field goal, then recovered a fumble on a Saints punt return and drove to the 1-yard line.

New Orleans answered with a huge goal-line stand. The defense stopped two short Cleveland runs and kept the score tied 3-3 at halftime. After the break, Sanders fired a 60-yard pass to Denzel Boston, setting up another Browns field goal. Shough answered by leading a long drive for a field goal of his own, and the teams were tied again, 6-6.

A Wild Final Race

Charlie Smyth's 48-yard field goal gave New Orleans a 9-6 lead with 5:38 left. Cleveland struck back just three plays later when Sanders hit KC Concepcion for a 64-yard touchdown. With time running out, Shough found Chris Olave for 33 yards to the Cleveland 10. Estime then ran in from 2 yards out, putting the Saints ahead 16-13 with 58 seconds remaining.

Sanders was not finished. He found Jerry Jeudy twice, helping Cleveland set up a 51-yard field goal at the buzzer and forcing overtime. In the extra period, Shough used Olave, Alvin Kamara, and Devaughn Vele to move downfield before finding Johnson. Sanders answered with a 39-yard touchdown pass to Fannin, but Cleveland could not complete its tying two-point try. The Saints moved to 3-5 after a win built on persistence when every late play mattered.

READING

Correct answers are filled in.

1 A Jordyn Tyson lost the ball after making a catch.

The article says Tyson lost the ball after a catch, and a Cleveland defender recovered it at the 1-yard line. This ended the Saints' scoring opportunity.

2 D The team began making plays that moved the ball successfully.

After the phrase appears, Cleveland completes important passes, ties the score, recovers a fumble, and drives near the goal line. These details show that the team began to play more effectively.

3 B The Saints earned a close win by continuing to respond to Cleveland's late plays.

The Saints answered Cleveland throughout the game, including tying field goals, a late touchdown run, and Johnson's overtime touchdown. The final paragraph describes the win as one built on persistence.

4 A Cleveland made a 51-yard field goal as time expired.

After the Saints took a 16-13 lead, Sanders helped Cleveland reach field-goal range. Cleveland's field goal at the buzzer tied the score and forced overtime.

5 C It left Cleveland one point short of tying the score.

Johnson's touchdown had put New Orleans ahead 23-22. When Cleveland scored but could not complete the two-point try, the Browns remained one point behind.

6 What a good answer includes:

A strong response explains that the Saints kept responding after setbacks and changes in the score. It should include details such as the early lost ball, the goal-line defensive stand, field goals that tied the game, Estime's late touchdown, and Johnson's overtime touchdown.
